About Coach Sanders:

Coach Sanders is currently in his second year as the men's head basketball coach and assistant athletic director at Calvary University in Belton, MO. In his first year at Calvary, Coach Sanders guided his team to a 7-13 record in a tough conference and earned a trip to the ACCA National Championship.

Before coming to Calvary, Coach Sanders was the head women's basketball coach at Truett-McConnell College where he guided his teams to many firsts in the school's four-year history: first consecutive conference wins, most conference wins, first conference tourney win, and multiple conference tourney titles. His squads were known for their dominant defense.

Prior to that, from 2008-2011, he was an assistant men's and women's coach at Lee University for multiple championship teams. While he was on staff as the head men's coach at Hierway Christian Academy from 2001-2007, he took them to two state titles, one state runner-up finish, and one state final four finish.

Sanders is an accomplished instructor with Shot Doctor International and travels across the country teaching proper shooting technique. He recently became a camp director with Adam Taylor Basketball@, whose founder notes, "Matt is a man who is focused on discipleship with a biblical philosophy, and that is what we are all about with our player development camps."

About Coach Brent Van Sickle

Brent Van Sickle has played the game of soccer since he was walking. He was an accomplished player and captain for many of his teams throughout his playing days. He was named All-State in leading his high school team to the Kansas Christian High School state championship, three time national champion at Northland Baptist Bible

College, and he was named to the first team Adidas All-American team his senior year at NBBC. Brent was an assistant coach for both the men's and women's soccer programs at Northland during the 2005 season.

Following his wife Jennifer's graduation, Brent and Jennifer moved to Alton, Illinois to work at Faith Baptist Church and Mississippi Valley Christian School. For six years, Brent coached the MVCS boys high school team; they made it to state every season and had multiple 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place finishes. Brent has always loved the game of soccer, and greatly appreciates the life lessons that can be learned from the game. Sports is just one tool in the toolbox to teach young men and women to grow in their walk with Christ. Although Brent's primary involvement in the game currently is as a Utah high school soccer referee, Brent greatly enjoyed the opportunity to coach and invest in lives for the cause of Christ. Brent and Jennifer Van Sickle have three children, Brook, Braden, and Bryce. They have now lived in Utah for the last six years planting a church north of Salt Lake City in Farmington. Brent is Co-Pastor of Lifepoint Church along with fellow NBBC alumni Phil Bennicoff.

About Coach Jojo Wilkes:

Jojo played volleyball in middle and high school, competing on two state championship teams in the MACS conference—one that went on to win the MAACS regional tournament—and receiving all-conference and all-tournament honors through MACS.

Jojo went on to play volleyball after high school at Faith Baptist Bible College in Ankeny, Iowa. Her sophomore year at Faith, Jojo received NCCAA All-Region honors as an outside hitter. Her junior year at Faith, she received NCCAA All-Region and MCCC All-Conference honors as an outside hitter, as well as second team All-American honors from the NCCAA and first team All-American honors from the ACCA conference. Her senior year, Jojo's role on the team changed from outside hitter to libero. For her final season, she received the regional honor of Libero of the Year through the NCCAA, was a team captain, and the season team MVP.

Jojo Wilkes was the middle school volleyball coach at Grand View Christian School in Des Moines, Iowa for the 2016-2017 seasons, as well as an assistant coach in the Iowa Power Volleyball Alliance club program in the 15's age category for the 2017-2018 season. Jojo and her husband Marcus then moved up to Plymouth, MN to join the Fourth Baptist Christian School teaching and coaching staff for the fall of 2018. Jojo currently coaches in the FBCS JH volleyball program. Jojo looks forward to continuing to share her volleyball knowledge and skills through coaching in the coming years.
